The City of Newburgh Receives Favorable Review of Corrective Actions from HUD

The City of Newburgh recently received a favorable report from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) regarding completion of required corrective actions stemming from a 2008 audit of the Section 108 Loan Guarantee Program.

Following a 6-week review on-site in the City Department of Planning & Development, HUD officials issued a “corrective action verification” stating that all recommendations were properly implemented and the deficiencies cited in the earlier report were corrected.

The report states, “Since we did not identify any deficiencies, there are no recommendations.”

The City Manager shared the news at the Sept. 24 City Council meeting. He said, “A HUD official told me this is only the second time in his memory he has seen a report issued with no recommendations.”

Mr. Herbek also recognized Community Development Director Courtney Kain for her efforts to ensure that all the corrective action recommendations were properly implemented and documented.
